

Asquith Unable To Make His Promised Statement To House

British Prime Minister Announces that French and Ewart Continue in Refusal to Withdraw Resignations—Declares They Are Bound to Carry Out Assurance to Gough

NEW "DISCIPLINE" ORDER TO THE BRITISH ARMY IS PROMULGATED

1. No officer or soldier shall in future be questioned by his superior officers as to what attitude he will adopt or as to his action in the event of his being required to obey orders dependent on future or hypothetical contingencies.

2. An officer or soldier is forbidden in future to ask for assurances as to orders which he may be required to fulfill.

3. It is the duty of every officer and soldier to obey all lawful commands given them through the proper channels, either for safeguarding public property or to support the civil power in the ordinary execution of its duty, or for the protection of the lives and property of the inhabitants in case of disturbance of the peace.

London, March 27.—The resignations of Field Marshal Sir John French and Lieutenant-General Sir John Stephen Ewart have not yet been withdrawn, and Premier Asquith, after twice deferring his statement, was able to announce in the House of Commons this afternoon only that the government was awaiting the reply of the army officers to the request that they remain in their posts. Premier Asquith reached the House of Commons straight from the second of the cabinet meetings held today, both of which were attended by the chief of the general staff, Field Marshal Sir John French. The premier said the matters in the question involved were of great importance and difficulty and seemed to the government to require very full consideration. A partial or provisional statement would be unadvisable.

Sir John French and Lieutenant-General Sir John S. Ewart, the adjutant-general of the forces, had intimated a wish to be relieved of their offices. Mr. Asquith said, not because of any difference between their views and those of the government, as to the condition under which the army should serve or should be employed in the aid of the civil power, but having issued the memorandum to Brigadier-General Gough, they thought this course incumbent upon them.

Premier Asquith then added: "The government has conveyed to them its wish that as there is no difference of opinion on any ground of policy they should not insist in their request, the carry out the assurance given to Gough."

DR. DYDE ADDRESSES THE CANADIAN CLUB

Principal of Robertson College
Delivers Inspiring Oration on the Subject "Canada"

(From Evening Edition)
At the luncheon of the Canadian club held in the Empire auditorium yesterday Dr. Dyde, principal of Robertson college, was the speaker. It is to be regretted there were not more present to hear one of the ablest and strongest addresses delivered to the club, but full expression of the appreciation of these remarks was given in a vote of thanks moved by E. H. Edwards, K.C.

Dr. Dyde has as his subject "Canada: a Glance Backward and a Glance Forward." He expressed his regret that he had not been able to make for a little Canada, a feeling and a devotion to the country, entirely to the mind of every Canadian. The great question of the United Empire for an united human race, to unite the great and we must think nationally, imperially and stably. A united Canada was still our ambition rather than an accomplished fact. We did not realize how much was involved in a united Canada. It was a world given problem not unsolved, involving the uniting together in one country and one people of different nationalities, different languages, different creeds and different religions. While it was an ambition not yet attained, it was an ambition to think of and a desire which permeated the mind of every resident of the country, whether he be French or English. Prospective of his religious faith.

And the realization of a united Canada was a united Empire, which meant a united world.

Our military service, he claimed, had reached an acute stage. Canada was away beyond the point when we should accept shelter and take security behind the Monroe doctrine.

In order to arrive at the great end we must have a true and a false democracy. A democracy which leveled up, down, which meant that every man would have the opportunity given him to attain that which was best. We must keep under every section and every creed to arrive at this worthy goal and must seek to accomplish the position which great Britain occupies, an attitude of appreciation and tolerance towards every other people.

WILSON WINS THE FIRST BATTLE OF REPEAL FIGHT

Washington, D. C., March 27.—President Wilson won the first battle of his fight to repeal the Panama toll exemption today, when the house, by a vote of 207 to 176, refused to continue the debate on the rule to limit to twenty hours the debate on the Panama toll exemption. The special rule that was adopted not to 176, but the vote of 207 to 176, was the vote of the house to continue the debate on the Panama toll exemption. The debate on the Panama toll exemption was continued for the first time since the passage of the bill in 1906.

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE OF MEN EMPLOYED IN EDMONTON FOUNDRY

Cupola Explodes Hurling Tons of Molten Metal Across
Machine Shop

(From Evening Edition)
Although tons of molten metal and red hot iron were hurled across the entire moulding room of the Edmonton Iron works by an explosion of tremendous force which occurred in the giant cupola Thursday afternoon, not one of the fifty men employed in the shop was injured. The metal, passed over their heads and on both sides of three men, who were standing in its path, coming as close to their heads as their side of the room when the explosion occurred.

The cupola stands in the center of the moulding shop. It is an immense steel barrel-shaped machine with a large funnel over seven feet in diameter. A large part of it had melted, but there were chunks of solid iron weighing as much as 250 pounds, which were hurled across the shop, and pieces of red hot iron were hurled in distance 40 feet across the building, the liquid metal spraying in great sheets across the floor and walls.

Two men, Charles Warner and J. Strachan, were driving away half of metal at the time and were standing close to the door, but by a miracle the metal did not hit them except on the hands. Warner, however, lost his clothes, getting fire to them, and Strachan, who was standing near the door, lost his shoes and his trousers. The explosion was a serious injury. The foreman, F. T. Hickey, was standing a little distance away in the path of the metal. It went over him and around him and struck the floor at his feet, but did not touch him.

The cause of the explosion is unknown, the only explanation offered by the management of the iron works being that some explosive must have been damaged in with the metal.

The damage to the cupola is considerable and will be expensive to repair. Other portions of the shop where the metal struck are wrecked but will be repaired in a few days.

In view of these misconceptions, and to obviate the possibility of their recurrence, the army council has today (Field Marshal Sir John French and Lieutenant-General Sir John S. Ewart being present) unanimously determined to issue a new army order.

The premier then read the order as set out above.

"That is an order issued by the army council today which has now been approved, and which regulates the conduct and discipline of the army in future."

Proceeding with his speech, the premier remarked that he must repeat what ministers in both Houses of Parliament had said several times this week, but in view of the wild legends current it needed to be repeated. He said: "It is altogether untrue the government or any member of the government ever contemplated active operations of an aggressive character in Ulster or any operations which now or in the future could impose on the army duty or service which was not simply covered by the terms of this order. To that I have only to add that the government adheres to all the declarations it has made."

LORD MURRAY ADMITS PARTY FUNDS WASTED

Stated That He Would Repeat It,
Though It Would Take Several Years to Do So

London, March 26.—Before the select committee of the House of Lords which has been inquiring into Lord Murray's transaction in Marconi, Lord Murray stated that in consequence of the failure and the absconding of the stockbroker, Pinner, and his own transactions, the party funds lost a large sum of money which he was chief whip. He was asked to repeat it all, though it would take several years.

Lord Murray, the chairman of the committee, refused to ask questions from the source of the party funds.

The transaction of Pinner, who withdrew his charges that Lord Murray, and his influence to get the House of Commons to pass the contract with the Marconi company without discussion.

ALBERTA WRESTLING CHAMPIONS FOR 1914
Heavyweight class: Sam Sadowski, Lebridge.
Middleweight class: A. Dower, Edmonton Y.M.C.A.
Lightweight class: Harry Crowe, Calgary Y.M.C.A.
Welterweight class: Paul Lewis, Lloydminster.
Middleweight class: Hugh McLaren, Calgary Y.M.C.A.
Heavyweight class: J. M. Smith, University of Alberta.

The team which is a banner one for amateur sports in Edmonton, at all the projects of the city council in regard to the use of the city grounds, which have been drawn up by the superintendent of Parks, Paul Van Amburg, and a committee of city men, are as follows:

The annual general meeting of the Edmonton cricket club was held last night in the building erected at the corner of the city grounds, which is the headquarters of the club. The president, H. B. McEntiff, presided. The report of the secretary, John McEntiff, was read and approved. The report of the treasurer, H. B. McEntiff, was read and approved. The report of the secretary, John McEntiff, was read and approved.

The specially designed Western Canada League schedule, from the hands of the craggy Herman Hefner, schedule maker in chief to the National League, has arrived, and according to Joe Price, of the Calgary Athletic, it is a fearsome document, written in the absence of known White it is hard to get the opinion of the Edmonton club in regard to the schedule, which has been made to suit the club owners, but, from the tone of some remarks, the Pittsburgh manager should put his schedule in his hip pocket and jump into the Monmouth river.

The out-of-town entries in the Alberta wrestling championships held at the Y.M.C.A. last evening, were very successful. Four of the six open championships going out of the city, only four visitors entered, so their trip to Edmonton can be considered profitable. Calgary's two entries, Crowe and McLaren, were both winners. Sam Sadowski, from Lebridge, won the middleweight honors, while Paul Lewis, Lloydminster, captured the belt in the welterweight class. A. Dower, Edmonton Y.M.C.A., took the featherweight championship for the third successive year. In the previous victories were won in the bouts of the Lehigh-Ohio Y.M.C.A. University of Alberta took the heavyweight championship. The heavyweight fight was a sell-out undercard. Van Amburg, two Edmonstons, two Mannys and Doc Haynes did not compete.

FORT SASKATCHEWAN: Past, Present, Future

The district will increase in value over those of districts further removed from the centre of activity. Fort Saskatchewan was incorporated in 1912, and at that time it was a small village. It is now a municipality with a population of 1,000. It is equipped with modern buildings, including a school, a hospital, a police station, and a fire station. It is also equipped with modern utilities, including water, gas, and electricity. The school is a fine building, and the hospital is a modern one. The police station is a fine building, and the fire station is a modern one. The utilities are all modern and efficient. The district is a fine one, and it is a pleasure to live in it.

The police station is a fine building, and the fire station is a modern one. The utilities are all modern and efficient. The district is a fine one, and it is a pleasure to live in it.

Supply Spiritual Needs. Four churches—the Church of England, the Methodist, the Baptist, and the Roman Catholic—show that in religious matters the spiritual needs of the community are well looked after. The churches are all modern and efficient. The district is a fine one, and it is a pleasure to live in it.

The sporting facilities of the town are catered to as shown by the tennis park and the football field. The tennis park is a fine one, and the football field is a modern one. The district is a fine one, and it is a pleasure to live in it.

To sum up, Fort Saskatchewan was made for man to thrive in and man is thriving there. Remembering the fact that it is a small village, it is a fine one, and it is a pleasure to live in it.

Stay at the Queen's Hotel.

You Hear a Strange Story.

Or still better, dreamy watching the smoke wreaths rising from your camp, you listen to a couple of the Northwesters. How anybody was so stupid as to believe in the sage of old, and how many miles around had been for weeks these unhappy settlers remained crowded within the stocks of the Mounted Police barracks, watching the columns of smoke that rose from their burning homes.

"What times those were," says one of the old-timers, who accompanied the column sent north to the rescue. "When we reached the barracks, the Indian said, 'The Indians raised the siege and vanished into the West. They were climbing a hill with rifles on either hand, when the cry arose: 'The Nicks are on us.' The Indians rushed out of their tents, a few hundred yards in front and made a dash for the top and on being beaten back disappeared in the gulches around us, stole unseen into the side pits had prepared for our reception and soon with deadly aim were picking off the exposed Canadians."

Manson House, Fort Saskatchewan.

O'Brien, and their goods, they claim are marked by uniform excellence. They hope, ending, they may, in favor with merchants because of its long wear, and the best themselves like it because of its neat appearance and style. In the housefurnishing department, there are various lines of carpets, curtains, mats, rugs, furniture and linoleum, and the store claims that their assortment is unsurpassed both in variety and value. In the boot and shoe department, James Graham and O'Brien are the most dependable makers of footwear from all the leading makers of Canada and the States.

This store was established in 1905 by Wilkin & Co., who afterwards became Wilkin & Jones, who finally became James Graham and O'Brien. The business started on Government street, and was burned out in 1914. A store was then made in Ross street, while the building on the corner of Ross and Deane is occupied for the furniture department.

"The growth of the business," says James Graham and O'Brien, "in such that trade has doubled within the last three years. The trade in general dry goods, groceries, and furnishings constitutes the three biggest items."

"And what kind of trade are you getting this time of the year, O'Brien?" "A good steady trade," was the reply, "and we think that there will be quite an active trade in the spring. We are already making up our minds to come in and taking up new home."

Mr. R. O. Jones, who is mayor of Fort Saskatchewan, is from the same place, where he was in a newspaper office, and came to the Port in 1905. He is a fine man, and he is a pleasure to live in it.

Mr. O'Brien is from Nova Scotia, and has been here for the last eleven years, having been brought off by reports of the west's prospects.
